Russia Threatens New War, Otto Of Austria Declares

Otto of Austria, who Thursday night inaugurated the seventh Salem Town Hall series with a lecture in the High School auditorium, sent more than 400 persons away considerably sobered by the rather gloomy picture he painted of the condition of the world today.

Perhaps his most ominous declaration of the evening came near the end of his talk when he said "In my opinion, the chances of preventing World War III are not very great."

Otto, the son of Charles, emperor of Austria and king of Hungary, led up to the statement by describing in every phase the progress made throughout the world by the forces of Communism. He told the audience exactly what the rest of the world is facing in trying to halt the rush of the Kremlin.

He said we are making the same mistake with Russia that we made with Germany in Hitler's early days. In fact, he pointed out, Stalin has been very honest with the world. He advertised long ago that the world is too small for both Communism and capitalistic states and that he did not intend to live up to treaties after the war ended.

In that respect, Stalin's career has closely paralleled Hitler's.

Enemies Singled Out

In 1941, Otto said, the Communist line asserted that "Germany is only the temporary enemy of the Soviet union. Our true foe is the United States and Great Britain, the capitalistic strongholds." Russia hoped to end World War II with a superiority over the democracies in both arms and industry, but the Allied military leadership prevented such a condition. Thus, the Kremlin switched tactics and began a phase of operations headed toward the economic disruption of this country. The Marshall plan and its success ruined that plan and the line moved into another phase—military expansion and aggression.

The Soviet is currently driving toward France and Spain in Europe and is making even bigger inroads in the Middle and Far East, the speaker said.

Otto dispelled any hope that may remain that Russia will crumble from within. He said there is no chance of an effective underground forming in the Soviet, since one cannot be organized. The "most efficient police force ever organized," the NKVD, won't permit it happening. "There is no chance of disunity in the Kremlin in the event of Stalin's death."

Molotov Gains Power

The last was firmly established recently when Molotov was elevated to the No. 2 spot in the Soviet scheme by Stalin's decree. The move, although not too popular with other government officials, was accepted by all.

However, the speaker continued, certain results from the late war have made it necessary for Russia to move on toward another. One result is the unrest among the Soviet troops who saw foreign duty and are now dissatisfied with conditions in their own country. The majority of the malcontents have been placed out of the way in labor battalions, but the remainder has spread a certain amount of defeatism.

The discontent contributed largely to the first industrial walkout in Soviet history last May—a general revolt against the regime.

Otto said he feels that Russia must move, in the manner of all dictatorships, toward another war.

Dewey, Truman, Wallace All In New York Today

(By Associated Press)

President Truman, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Henry Wallace cross campaign trails in New York City today as they hunt voters among their millions for next Tuesday's presidential election.

Truman scheduled another busy day talking his way through the metropolitan area, with a major address tonight in Brooklyn. The President climaxed his first day's visit with a Madison Square Garden speech last night forecasting victory for "liberal government" on November 2.

Dewey will wind up his campaign in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. He was due to arrive from Boston this afternoon after electioneering his way through Rhode Island and Connecticut.

The Republican presidential contender urged his New England audiences yesterday not to "fall for the argument of candidates holding high office that there is only one party." And he promised to expand social legislation as "part of the defense of our American way of life in a troubled and dangerous world."

Wallace On Tour

Wallace planned another go-round of New York talks with a major speech tonight in Harlem.

Truman, noting that Dewey's travel schedule has followed close on his heels, referred to his GOP rival as his "shadow." But he said the New York governor was afraid to follow him in discussing such campaign issues as Social Security, housing, minimum wages, the Taft-Hartley law.

The President also retorted to Dewey's "mud-slinging" charge Tuesday night in Chicago.

"If it's mud-slinging to go out and tell the people in every state and every corner of the country about the facts of life, then I'm a mudslinger," Truman said.

Dewey meanwhile promised that if he is elected President he will increase Social Security benefits and expand its coverage, boost the minimum wage and provide a "stronger and expanded public health service."

The GOP standard bearer also hammered anew on the Communism issue. He said "our country is entitled to a government that will not need $25,000,000 to find out how many Communists it has appointed to the government service."

It is entitled, he added "to a government which will not appoint Communists in the first place."

Dewey lashed out again at the Truman administration's handling of foreign policy, saying "it has blown hot and cold on issue after issue."

Russians Demand Information On M'Arthur Parley

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 — The United States will reject Russia's demand for an official report on Gen. Douglas MacArthur's military conferences at Tokyo with other American commanders.

The State department made this clear in a statement declaring such talks are held by MacArthur in his capacity as a top United States officer and "are purely routine matters of sole concern to this government."

At the same time, the department denied that the former Japanese Navy yard at Yokosuka is being converted into a modern naval base for American forces in the far east.

Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin voiced his demand for an American explanation at a meeting of the far eastern commission yesterday.

Declare Position

The state department declared its position last night. Its comment, however, was in the form of a public statement, rather than a diplomatic note. So the formal rejection will not be made until the commission meets again next Thursday in its role as adviser on Japanese occupation problems.

Panyushkin announced his action a short time after Moscow had issued Prime Minister Stalin's blast against the western powers, charging them with pursuing aggressive policies aimed at "the unleashing of war."

Both the envoy's move here and Stalin's statements in Moscow were linked in American official thinking to Russia's so-called "peace offensive." They were interpreted as efforts by the Soviets to picture the United States as a nation busily preparing for war while the Soviet Union is leading a great world movement for peace.

Panyushkin based his demand for information on press reports of a conference MacArthur held in Tokyo October 12-14 with Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining, commanding the Alaska defenses, and Vice Adm. John L. McCrea, deputy commander of the Pacific fleet.

The Russian ambassador said the subject discussed was "the question of increasing American occupation forces in Japan and that of preparing measures against a surprise attack on Japan—although it is known for everyone that nobody threatens Japan."

Election officials ruled on the scratched or split ballot after scores of inquiries from electors who said they were confused by Secretary of State Edward J. Hummel's instructions on possible invalidation of the presidential ballot if the voter does not stay in one of its three columns.

The ruling on the presidential ballot does not affect the state, district and county ballots, according to John O'Hanlon, county election board clerk.

Harry S. Truman has found a stronghold in Salem High school.

In a poll conducted by the Quaker, Salem High weekly publication, President Truman received 352 votes of the 718 cast by the teen-agers. Dewey, the Republican presidential candidate who consistently rates as the probable winner by most national polls, received 307 votes.

Other candidates, with a definite minority of tallies, were Wallace, 29 per cent; Thurmond, 5 per cent and Thomas, 1 per cent. More than 4 per cent of the student voters were undecided.

It Was No Hardship

A report that the deadlock between James C. Petrillo and the manufacturers of phonograph records has been broken is a pleasant note in their discord of the last 10 months. But if an agreement really has been reached, as reported by the New York Times, let there be no nonsense about relieving the public of a hardship.

The hardship, if any, has been borne by Petrillo's musicians who were forbidden to play for new recordings by edict of their union leader. The public has continued to hear, to buy and to enjoy recordings made without the services of the union's members, or made before the ban last Dec. 31. Petrillo said then, "we are never going to make records again—ever," which is a minor chord note, in the light of the report that "never" is about to be terminated.

Moreover, a large part of the public has been pleasantly surprised by the discovery that the best of the old tunes revived and recorded before the Dec. 31st deadline were as good as ever, possibly better than they were when they came around the first time. Many a parent has taken on new prestige in the opinion of the rising generation by knowing all the notes and most of the words of songs popular long before the rising generation knew the difference between "sweet" and "hot."

Same Tirade, New Targets

Stalin's latest arraignment of nations as war instigators is part of the standard Soviet technique. The difference is that this time the attack also is directed against members of the U. S. Security council that had no direct involvement in the Berlin blockade. In the vote on the Bramuglia proposal, the neutrals were counted with the United States, Britain and France. The Ukraine stood with Russia.

It was a fair and statesmanlike proposal that brought Russia's 27th U. N. veto. Under Dr. Juan Bramuglia of Argentina, a plan was worked out whereby the Berlin blockade would be lifted immediately; negotiations, to be completed by Nov. 20, would be started on the German currency dispute, and the Big Four foreign ministers would convene to consider the German problem in its entirety. Vishinsky's counter-proposal would have had the blockade lifted gradually while the currency negotiations progressed. Such a plan would have given the Russians a club to use over the western powers at every stage of the negotiations.

The six neutrals now have had a taste of negotiating with the Russians. They know what the Western powers have been up against.

The dispute now goes to the U. N. general assembly. To this court of world opinion, the Western powers, together with the six neutral nations overruled by Russia's veto, will confidently present their case.

Soviet's 'Planned Chaos'

Our three defense departments are now wondering whether they can get by on the budget for fiscal 1950 that Mr. Truman has limited to $15,000,000,000. They also seem uncertain how they will apportion the sums they get.

The confusion is not due to service rivalries, if reports on the budget discussions are correct. The principal trouble is that the defense heads do not know what sort of a war to prepare for, or when to prepare for it.

The world's war-fever chart has recently shown some sharp rises and falls. The Berlin situation grows tense, and up it goes. A few quiet days, and the fever subsides.

All this is bound to produce uncertainty in the top military circles of the western nations. But the question—and it's one that doesn't seem to have had much public discussion—is whether the uncertainty may not be part of the Russian strategy of economic, not political, war.

This is only a question, not a certainty. There is no doubt that the Soviet government has millions under arms and millions more available, or that it is working in closest secrecy to perfect new and terrible weapons. The western countries cannot ignore these factors or fail to prepare defense against them.

At the same time it is possible that all the Russian accusations and professed fears and provocative tactics are part of a long-range Soviet plot to gain a number of Communist objectives with a minimum risk of conflict. Perhaps Mr. Vishinsky, with his screamin' thumpings and apoplectic countenance, is coolly carrying out a well-prepared program. Perhaps his mission to Paris is simply to create more turmoil, with no thought of negotiation.

Possibly the Russian leaders are thinking somewhat in this vein: We are not in shape for a long war, and the United States will not launch a "preventive" war. But the more we accuse the Americans of planning aggression the more the western world will think that we are arming furiously to protect ourselves or to strike the first blow.

That being the case, they—and particularly America—will arm more furiously in return. Money meant for the Marshall Plan will be diverted to armaments for America and western Europe. Finally the Marshall Plan will fail. And Europe, on the verge of financial, industrial and moral collapse, will be ripe for revolution and communism.

The above is just a guess. It may be wrong, but it is not impossible. And since it is not, it presents a problem which the heads of western governments have doubtless considered. That problem is how to build up a strong and safe defense and still not impoverish the free world by squandering vital goods and money on an unnecessarily big war machine.

One immediate way to tackle this problem, we believe, is for the representatives of free governments in Paris to stop trying to match Mr. Vishinsky in insult and vituperation, thus perhaps playing into his hands. Another is for the heads of those free governments to strive even harder to counter Russian provocations with calmness as well as firmness.

This Commercial Age

Maybe it's the influence of the radio giveaway shows, we don't know, but undoubtedly we're becoming a mercenary people. The other day a co-ed at Mercer university in Macon, Ga., ate a live grasshopper for $2. It makes us sigh for the time—and it seems only yesterday—when Harvard students were swallowing live goldfish for nothing.

A LIVELY state of affairs, with all efforts speeded up to exciting and constructive climax either in new propositions or projects, in travel, change, pleasant contacts and agreements.

The pursuit of pleasure for weekend holidays might also thrive under: a happy stimulus of sidereal forces. However, it would be wise carefully to study and plan all performances, since there is a tricky undertone, calling for alertness and discretion. Look for the hidden factor, then act with finesse and stratagem.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may prepare for a lively and eventful year with much stirring on new projects or in fresh fields of operation. The creative forces and faculties are under excellent stimuli for productive work, although there are suspicious or tricky undertones to cope with, and in a peremptory and drastic manner. Study carefully underlying factors, look for pitfalls and "catches," then proceed on a direct and forthright plan, although using tact and finesse. Subtlety and strategy might pay better than strife or friction. Similar tactics should also prevail in personal complications.

A big oil company has made available to oil-burner manufacturers, royalty-free, a device developed by its researchers which reduces home fuel oil consumption almost 25 per cent.

There seem to be too many fat people around. A word to the wide is sufficient.

A Kansas man was sent to jail for stealing a hound pup. A full-grown dog probably leads to Alcatraz.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Doctor Must Be Good Detective

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
DOCTORS would have an easier time if all ailments produced their symptoms at the real site of the trouble. Unfortunately, they don't and physicians must often be both clever and resourceful in tracing down the causes of pain and discomfort.

Disturbances in the joint between the upper and lower jaw are especially deceptive. While causing almost no symptoms in the joint itself, they may bring about pain anywhere else in the face or head, including the eyes, nose, and ears. This is because the joint is so closely related to the facial nerves and the eustachian tubes which lead from the middle ear to the throat.

Cause of Trouble

The most frequent cause of trouble in this joint is complete loss of the molar or back teeth. An improper bite called malocclusion, may also affect it. Locking of the joint may also result from yawning, a blow on the chin, an ulcerative tooth, an abscess around the tonsils, or from a psychoneurosis. Spasm may come from a boil in the outer ear canal or from poorly fitting teeth.

Any of these things may throw the joint surfaces out of proper position so that eventually they become worn. In cases of this type there may be pain in and around the eyes, nose, or ears.

Ear symptoms include such things as deafness, a feeling of stuffiness, and ringing in the ears. A grating noise or dizziness may be present. Often these ear symptoms may be relieved by blowing air through the eustachian tubes.

When there are disturbances of the jaw joint, the lower jaw may move unevenly when the mouth is opened and closed. A cracking in the joint is often heard and a grating sensation is often felt.

X-ray examinations of the jaw joint frequently show changes produced by the wearing of the joint surfaces.

Cork Discs

If the condition is due to a loss of the back teeth, the symptoms may be relieved by wearing cork discs as jaw supports before permanent, adequate correction is carried out.

In doing this, the dentist puts cork discs into the spaces where the teeth are missing, and the jaw is fastened in place by an elastic headgear. The discs are added until the symptoms disappear. A record is kept of the number of discs used so the dentist may calculate the dimensions of the teeth to be put in. During this period, the patient may be given phenobarbital, which is a sedative drug, to produce relaxation and rest.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

L. S.: I have been told I have a systolic apical murmur. What does that mean?

Answer: This term refers to a heart murmur, which is an abnormal sound made by the heart when it beats. Such murmurs often indicate damage to the heart valves.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th St., New York City.

City Governments Get And Spend More Money

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—City governments took in and spent more money last year than ever before, the census bureau reported today.

In 1947, the bureau said, the 39 cities in this country with 25,000 or more population:

- (1) Collected $3,300,080,000 in revenue.
- (2) Spent $2,516,568,000 on current operations and
- (3) Laid out $312,888,000 on capital improvements such as streets, sewage systems, etc.

More than half the revenue came from property taxes, which raised $1,861,930,000. That was six per cent more than in 1946, the bureau's report said.

Pretty Hot Numbers?

COLUMBUS, Oct. 29—Firemen here ran into some hot numbers in an early morning call yesterday.

Summoned to the apartment of Nate Green this morning they found a smoldering blaze which originated in a phone book.

The firefighters estimated the damage at $55 and made the obvious remark: "Some pretty hot numbers in there."

Many scientists predict that about 20,000 years from now the earth will be in the midst of another ice age, and northern cities will be overrun with heavy ice sheets.

Think John Lewis May Be Wooing Left

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29—Is John L. Lewis trying to woo leftwing trade unions back under his leadership?

Some of his AFL and CIO rivals see that as a possible objective of his suggestion that the United States shut off Marshall plan aid to France if she continues "making war on . . . citizens who are miners." The French government has been using troops to take over coal mines shut down by the Communist led strike.

Lewis made his suggestion in a letter to AFL President William Green and asked that it be pressed on President Truman. Green said the AFL would investigate.

Some union and government officials said the Lewis letter may provide propaganda material for Communists in France.

Union circles said that beside his apparent motive, Lewis might have been offering a home to CIO left-wingers if they bolt the parent union at the CIO convention next month.

That "13" Jinx Busy Again

ROCK ISLAND, Ill.—It was one of those "13" incidents for 13-year-old Bill Verlander, whose motorcycle crashed into an automobile parked at 13th street and 13th avenue.

Verlander told police he lives in the 1300 block on East Moline's Seventh ave. The owner of the car gave his address as 1348 Ninth avenue, East Moline, Ill.

Police counted the letters in Verlander's full name. They total 13.

Army Reserve Offers Special Commissions

M1 Sgt. A. E. Hatfield of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting, Salem, postoffice building, announced today that certain veterans of World War II are eligible for Reserve commissions as second lieutenants, to be assigned to active duty.

The new program, set in motion by the Department of the Army, is designed to procure junior officers to fill vacancies in the currently expanding army.

Sgt. Hatfield pointed out that any veteran between 19 and 32, with at least one year of service in any branch of the Armed Services between Dec. 7, 1941, and June 30, 1947, in good physical condition, who has had two years of college, but is not attending college at the present time, is eligible to apply for a commission.

Members of the regular army on active duty and members of Reserve components of the armed forces not on active duty, who meet similar requirements, also are eligible to apply.

Successful applicants will be commissioned second lieutenants in the Reserve, will be sent to school and upon satisfactory completion of the course of study and training, will be given two years of active duty as officers with the U. S. Army.

Florists Do Big Business

BERKELEY, Calif.—Cut flower production brought California growers an income in excess of $225,000,000 last year, according to Harry M. Butterfield of the University of California College of Agriculture.

Roses, gardenias, carnations and orchids were the principal flowers grown and shipped to all parts of the nation.

Fabric Furs

FABRICS which are able to convince hard-to-fool trappers into believing that cloth is fine fur are science's latest gift to budgeted school girls.

Caracul-curl rayon and leopard-stenciled cotton-and-wool mixtures make the two weather-proofed coats shown which are teamed with matching fur-type halo hats. Fur-type leopard coat in foreground, which is lined and trimmed with white pile fabric, owes its spots to expert stenciling.

Coat in background, lined and trimmed with green wool fleece, is made of a deep-pile rayon. The surfaces of this fabric have been crimped and dyed gray in a roller process to resemble caracul.

DURING TESTS MADE at Wallops Island, Va., a ram jet missile, 16 inches in diameter, attained a 1,600 mile an hour speed, according to the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics. At top, the jet drop model is shown mounted under the wing of an F-82 fighter plane which takes it aloft to a prescribed altitude. At bottom is shown the missile. The thrust of the ram jet, plus the acceleration of gravity gives it a speed 2 1/4 times faster than the speed of sound. A ground radio records the engine's performance. (International)

TOWN HALL

now that the seeds of unrest have been sown.

The country is in better condition to wage a war than is popularly believed. Billions of dollars worth of machinery, in addition to actual technicians, were taken from both Germany and Manchuria after the war and are now being exploited behind Russian borders. For the most part, Russia's industrial increase has been overlooked. Since 1940, her arms output has increased four-fold. Her planes are modern jets and heavy bombers, similar to our B-29.

Boasts Naval Force
In naval production, Russia has concentrated her efforts in the manufacturing of submarines and aircraft carriers. She now has 300 subs afloat, 108 of which are of the most modern design. The speaker said the subs are presently patrolling the entire world and reports that they may have been seen off our coasts are probably true.

The immensity of the sub fleet is shown by the fact that Hitler's sub pack, which caused so much consternation, numbered only 23 at the outbreak of the last war. Four million men are now under arms for Russia, mostly in the land army. These are scattered across Europe and the Middle East, but the force is still formidable where it might be needed.

Russia's present goal in Europe is Spain, "the most strategic position on the continent". A secondary goal is to see the fall of France, Otto said. The latter, however, has removed all the Communists from her government and the threat is currently not too great there. Otto pointed out that the Soviets never intended to make an issue of Berlin, but seized the crisis there to make a show of power and to distract the attention of the world from other fronts. The Berlin situation is a "grand bluff", Otto opined. The Middle East situation is acute. Poised near the Suez canal, within easy striking distance, are 72 Russian divisions, opposed by only seven divisions of Arab troops. "The Middle East", the speaker said, "is absolutely open to the Soviets."

Even worse is the Far East, where great inroads have been made in Burma, British Malaya and French Indo-China. We stand to lose China, as the government troops prove to be no match for the Communist forces. North China is almost gone now and the push is on toward the Yangtze river, Otto said. "We are losing ground every day and the tide is running in Stalin's direction." However, the speaker continued, we must have knowledge of the gloomy truth in order to know what measures to take to stop the Red movements.

Offers Counter Plan
Otto's three point program to halt the Communists includes (1) begin an all-out armament program; (2) a real and genuine alliance of all anti-Communist countries; and (3) a blunt statement to Russia that crossing of imaginary lines in Europe, the Middle East and the Far East will bring war.

"In addition, we must correct whatever is wrong with our society. Something is wrong with it, in view of the rise of Hitler and Stalin in our midst. We must return to Christian principles and defeat Communism on the home front."

The coming conflict, the speaker concluded, will decide if man is to

EDITS OWN PAPER TO PRINT LETTER

OKABENA, Minn., Oct. 29—If you don't like the way your home town editor handles in print a letter you write him, get out a newspaper and print the episode yourself.

John N. Barron did just that yesterday with the result that this community of 210 potential writers of letters-to-the-editor today had its choice between two newspapers. The town is normally served by the weekly Okabena Press, edited by Hildreth Johnson. Twelve years ago, Barron wielded the blue pencil in the same shop.

Recently, Barron wrote a letter to Johnson commenting on the growth of Okabena and ending with a paragraph mentioning a couple of state and national candidates he said he thought "ought to be good for the folks."

Johnson ran the first part of the letter but omitted the politics. Whereupon Barron, now employed as a printer in Minneapolis, set down at his linotype and turned out Vol. 1, No. 1, of a paper he called the Okabena America, ran off 300 copies and mailed them to friends here.

On page one Barron explained: "In the years that we, ourselves, edited the Okabena Press, we encouraged letters from readers—and always printed them exactly as written." Most of the rest of the four pages was devoted to personal greetings to the local folks, plus ample attention to the candidates

Barron favors, all "prepared, paid for and circulated by John N. Barron."

"There'll be no second edition because No. 1 tells my entire story," said Barron.

Unhappy about the entire matter, Johnson explained: "Reck, I didn't print his entire letter because it looked to me just like political advertising."

Not Quite The Same
MILWAUKEE—The patient, terrified by the dentist's hypodermic needle, finally agreed to let Dr. Benjamin Walsbren inject novocaine before extracting a tooth.

But before the dentist could insert the needle, the patient fainted from fright. The tooth was pulled quickly and the patient knew nothing until he was awakened with smelling salts.

When he returned to have another extraction, the dentist again started to prepare the needle. But the patient begged to have it done the way you did last time.

So Walsbren waved the smelling salts under the patient's nose and extracted the tooth.

"You better get a new jar, Doc," complained the patient, rubbing his aching jaw. "The stuff you waved under my nose is getting weak."

INCOME TAX HIGH DESPITE NEW CUT

Income To Government Shows Gain Through 3-Month Period

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—Despite the income tax cut government tax receipts were $322,523,000 higher for the first quarter of the fiscal year than in the same period last year. The Internal Revenue bureau said today a $271,100,000 drop in individual income taxes was more than offset by increased revenue from corporation income and other taxes. Total collections for the July-through-September period were listed as $9,343,971,000. The bureau's report did not cover some important sources of budget revenue, such as receipts from surplus property sales and customs duties. Individual income taxes, the biggest single source of government funds, yielded $3,871,171,000 for the first quarter of fiscal year 1943 as increases in personal incomes helped offset the tax rate reduction. Receipts from corporation income taxes rose $502,602,000 to a $2,861,957,000 total take for the quarter.

Loomed rag rugs are an important industry of prison inmates and sales are now the lowest in more than 30 years.

Claims Water Mixture Conserves His Gasoline

SAVANNAH, Ga.—G. O. Griffin doesn't claim to have any magic formula. But he says he is saving money on his gasoline bill through a simple chemical innovation.

Griffin has worked out a device which, when attached to his car, mixes water with gasoline vapor before the vapor is drawn into the cylinders. He says it has saved him up to 50 per cent on gasoline bills, makes him motor run smoother, almost eliminates the formation of carbon deposits, and increases the all-around efficiency of his motor.

Griffin patented the invention in 1936. He hopes to have it on the market some day. He is 73 years old.

URGE DEWEY STATE VIEWS IF ELECTED

PARIS, Oct. 28—High authorities here are urging Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to announce quickly, if he is elected President, his stand on the policies of the bi-partisan United States delegation to the United Nations Assembly.

Dewey has consistently maintained the Republican party is supporting the bi-partisan foreign policy of the United States.

But numerous leaders from countries around the world say they want him to put down in black and white just where he stands.

Without such a statement, some delegates say, the Assembly might just as well adjourn until the United Nations can find out which way the United States is going.

John Foster Dulles, who may become secretary of state if Dewey wins, refuses to commit himself when asked what Dewey's position will be.

Persons close to moves within the United States delegation say Dulles is equally non-committal there.

SCHOOL

Junior high and Fourth Street building. Ever since the Salem schools became crowded there has been no opportunity for junior high pupils to have the benefit of gym classes.

Physical education is important to the proper development of adolescent boys and girls of junior high school age.

The Fourth Street building is badly in need of facilities where pupils can assemble for programs and the many other group activities which go to make a good school.

Voters are asked to vote for the bond issue so that all the small children in Salem may have the chance for a full day at school. If the bond issue is approved it will add only about $150 in taxes for $1,000 listed on the tax duplicate.

Salem's public utilities, factories, and business concerns pay more than half the taxes needed for the school bonds. Actually, the school tax bill will be small in comparison to the advantages Salem children will receive in having enough schoolrooms in which to train for citizenship.

to approximately 400 delegates and members at the Thursday evening session. Miss Thorne and her sister, Faye, sang a duet as a part of the musical prelude.

Home missions were given emphasis, with a report on the Dover project, which included the building of a tabernacle there. The societies have raised more than $3,000 for home mission purposes.

Dr. Taylor in his address on "Deliver To Founders of the Church" reviewed the history of the early church and explained that its phenomenal growth, under persecution, was due to the fact that the disciples were filled with the Holy Spirit. "They marched to the temple that knew no defeat," he added.

Report Agreement On Record Making

NEW YORK, Oct. 29—The New York Times said today record manufacturers have reached agreement with James C. Petrillo's musicians union on major terms of a contract for lifting the music recording ban.

There was no comment from union or company spokesman.

The ban, imposed by the AFL American Federation of Musicians, has been in effect since Dec. 31 when the old contract between the companies and the union expired.

The Times said the new agreement will be submitted "in the next few days to the Department of Justice for an opinion as to its legality under the Taft-Hartley law."

The Times said the agreement represented a compromise under which the union waived earlier demands that the companies pay royalties on all records sold since the ban has been in effect.

In exchange, the companies agreed to "what was called a slight increase" in the fees to be paid on records selling at retail of more than $1, the paper said.

Jobs Go Begging For Men Over 40

CHICAGO—The Men Over Forty Club is getting desperate. Business is too good.

The club, formed during the depression, is composed of men over 40 years of age, who have had executive or administrative experience and who are unemployed.

A non-profit organization, the club has placed more than 600 men in jobs. But now, according to club president C. A. Swanson, it has no backlog of men to fill the jobs.

"Complicated business procedures have created a demand for men over 40 with executive experience that exceeds the supply," he said.

Members must be unemployed and are required to put in six hours a day on the club's job-hunting program.

The club is maintained by contributions from "alumni." No fee is charged members. Former members include a scattering of ex-admirals and generals.

Swanson said the club recently found a job for a 78-year-old man.

Helen Traubel of Met. Gets By Unrecognized

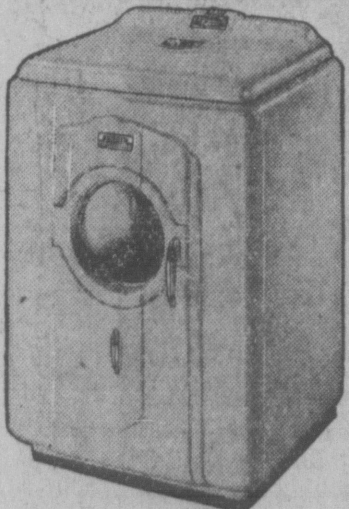

HUNTINGTON, Ind. — Helen Traubel, Wagnerian opera soprano, stopped inconspicuously here during a vacation trip and spent the night in a hotel.

Mrs. R. Eugene Beatty, an opera fan, recognized Miss Traubel and introduced herself. Mrs. Beatty said Miss Traubel asked her not to tell anybody.

Mrs. Beatty promised and Miss Traubel spent two hours visiting a street fair. Nobody else recognized her.

CARE PACKAGES TO BE IMPROVED

Food Packages For Overseas Shipment Will Contain More

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 — An improved CARE standard food package—containing more meats, more fats and more sweets—will be available for shipment overseas on Nov. 1. It was announced today by Paul Conly French, executive director of the non-profit, government-approved agency.

The new package, French explained, was devised to meet the changing food needs in Europe. It contains 22½ pounds of food, compared to the previous 21½ pound parcel, and the contents have an increased retail value of more than $1.50. However, price of the package remains the same, $10, including guaranteed delivery to friends, relatives or needy beneficiaries selected by CARE's member welfare agencies.

The increase in content value, Mr. French pointed out, was made possible partly through the ocean freight reimbursement voted by congress, out of Economic Cooperation Administration funds. Through savings effected in its bulk buying, packing and delivery methods, CARE was able to improve the pack still more.

Because grain is now more plentiful in Europe, the seven pounds of flour in the former CARE package has been reduced to two pounds. In its place, the meat items have been increased from three pounds to four and a quarter. A pound of honey, a pound of lard and two pounds of rice have been added. Also, preserves have been substituted for dried fruits. Caloric content has been increased from more than 40,000 to 42,000.

Complete contents of the new package are: One pound each of beef in beef broth, steak and kidney, Swiftling (lard), preserves, honey, raisins, chocolate; two pounds each of margarine, sugar, milk powder, coffee, rice flour; a half-pound each of corned beef loaf, liver loaf, bacon, egg powder; three-quarters of a pound of Prem (prepared meat) and 12 ounces of soap.

Orders for the new standard food package may be sent to CARE, 50 Broad st., New York 4, N. Y. Delivery is guaranteed in Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Finland, France, Germany (American, British, French zones and all Berlin), Hungary and the Netherlands.

For the duration of the blockade, packages to Berlin will be $12.50, to cover the higher cost of air transport. On orders to Great Britain, Italy, Greece and Japan, delivery of CARE's special food assortment for those countries will continue.

Better Mousetrap Has Its Points At That

FORT WORTH, Tex. — Eight years ago W. A. Utz caught his finger in a mouse trap. Today, with Bing Crosby's aid, he had done something about it.

Utz has invented a better mouse trap. The six-inch strip of pressed aluminum has saw-tooth, tapered jaws operated by a spring lever that permits disposal of the catch, untouched by human hands.

Utz perfected the trap and sent it to Crosby's California research foundation, a clearing house for gadgets. The foundation approved his design, sold the patent and obtained Utz the guaranty of a royalty each month.

Crime and Punishment

WAUKESHA, Wis. — The law of averages finally caught up with Melvin Jones. He was arrested after his car had crashed into another. He was fined for drunken driving. He told the court he had been driving for 15 years without a license.

Winter Weather Brings Driving Hazards, Warning

With earlier hours of darkness signalling approach of winter, motorists were reminded today by Earl L. Reeb, director of the Ohio Department of highways, to put their vehicles in readiness for the dangerous weather months.

"All of us who drive are noticing the heavier demands being made on our electrical equipment," he pointed out. "We should have our lights, battery and heater inspected to be sure they're in good condition for bad weather."

The principal causes for high winter accident rates are poor visibility and inadequate traction. "To maintain visibility," Reeb emphasized, "the motorist must, in addition to having good lights, be certain that his windshield wipers and defrosters are working properly. You must see a hazard to avoid it."

Good brakes and good common sense were recommended as aides to good traction on snow and ice.

Reeb advised that brakes be equalized to prevent unnecessary skidding and that liberal use of common sense be exercised, constantly keeping in mind that speed must be adjusted to changing weather, road and traffic conditions.

Regarding tire chains he commented: "Their use helps reduce skid wrecks and traffic delays when severe snow and ice conditions develop."

Find Poison Oak Leaves Make Good Horse Fodder

BERKELEY, Cal. — Horses eat poison oak leaves with relish, according to Arthur W. Sampson, professor of forestry at the University of California college of agriculture. Poison oak is as nourishing for livestock as most shrubs and more so than grasses, but most animals eat very little of it, Sampson says.

It is more nourishing early in the season but maintains a high level of protein content during later stages. Horses eat poison oak without damage to their digestive tracts, and not even the slightest blister appears on the outside of their faces, Sampson said.

Junior High News

One hundred and seventeen parents followed the usual morning school curriculum of their sons or daughters when Guest day was observed at the Junior High school, Wednesday.

At 11 a. m. a Halloween play, "Horrors Incorporated," was presented by Miss Elizabeth Ward's dramatic class for the entertainment of the eighth graders and the parents.

The parents were made more thoroughly acquainted with the school bond issue when Supt. E. S. Kerr told of the need for additional facilities for education.

The need was actually demonstrated by the day's program which had to be previously shown for the seventh graders as seating accommodations are not available for the entire Junior High group.

The program concluded with singing by the Junior High choir directed by Miss Doris Tetlow, and a pep rally in preparation for the Salem-Leetonia Junior High football game.

The choir sang two sacred selections "Thanks Be to God" and "Bless This House." The secular vocal music enjoyed by the 20 parents and friends who visited the class, included "Danny Boy," "My Hero," from the Chocolate Soldier; "Sylvia" and "Sympathy."

There were many helping hands around the Junior High.

A few of the students who assisted the teachers are: Barbara Miller and Shirley Brautigam, who collected and recorded the absence slips; Joan Schuller and Rose Marie Crawford have charge of the safety posters, and Sally Moore distributes mail.

General aides are Johanna Kieffer, Sally Rufer, Nancy Howell, Mrs. Arthur Brier, school nurse, has a staff of "first-aiders," namely, Johanna Hermen, Betty Miller, Nora Guller, Lorraine Warren, Rosemary Celin, Sally Rufer, Eirlene Bowman, Barbara London.

Joanne Beck, Anne Stowe and Carolyn Hoopes.

Dixie-Crat Nominee Is Put In His Place

COLUMBIA, S. C. — Gov. J. Strom Thurmond returned home to South Carolina squealed after he was nominated for president by the States' Rights Democrats at Houston, Texas.

The 46-year-old governor exhibited the front page of a Houston newspaper which bannered his arrival in Texas. It carried a big, beautiful picture — of the governor's 22-year-old wife, Jean.

Thurmond thumbed through to page seven. There, sharing a much smaller cut with another man, was the presidential nominee.

Boyle's COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — This is the city that is never through building. Manhattan island is like some nursery for baby giants, where the children are continuously rearing up strange new play houses—only to knock down the blocks and start all over again.

A man who spends his entire life in New York city never dies in the same city in which he was born. He has to search in his old age to find the remnants of the town of his boyhood.

It practically takes an act of parliament—or the German airforce—to change the face of London. But here the pattern of change is a way of life. By the time a building is put up it is already old-fashioned.

They're tearing down the old New York every day. This saddens many an old-timer, but the same thing has been going on for more than 300 years.

When the famous flatiron building was erected on a triangular plot at 23rd and Broadway in 1902 to inebriate the skyscraper era, it quickly became a tourist Mecca. Visitors wondered uneasily if it was safe to go into a building 20-stories tall.

At that time its Madison Square site was the most fashionable in town. Gay blades hung out at the windy corner to ogle petticoats, whipped into view by the breezes. Cops shooed them away, and there is a theory that this explains the phrase, "Twenty-three skiddoo," popular in grandpa's day.

Today the flatiron building is passed by unnoticed. It isn't even on the list of the 40 tallest structures here. And this 60-story terra cotta Woolworth building, hailed as a cathedral of commerce in 1913, is topped by five other business towers.

Fifty years or more ago the glamor shopping lane stretched along Broadway from 14th, 23rd streets. Then it moved over to Fifth avenue and began steadily marching up toward Central park, crowding out the mansions of the wealthy.

Today the red stone palace in which Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt entertained international society is gone—torn down to make way for an office building. The only hold-out along Fifth avenue is the old Jay Gould home, and it's been turned into an antique shop. The Wrecker's ball has also smashed apart Charlie Schwab's imported French chateau on Riverside drive, and a modern apartment building will take its place. About the only landmark left intact on the drive is Grant's tomb—and who goes there now?

In Manhattan the past gets no such reverence as it does in the cities of Europe. On Washington Square, made famous by Henry James and other writers, they're knocking down "Genius Row," home of many well known artists and authors. In the park itself small children clamor about in a monkey gym over the bones of the unknown dead. The park once was a potter's field.

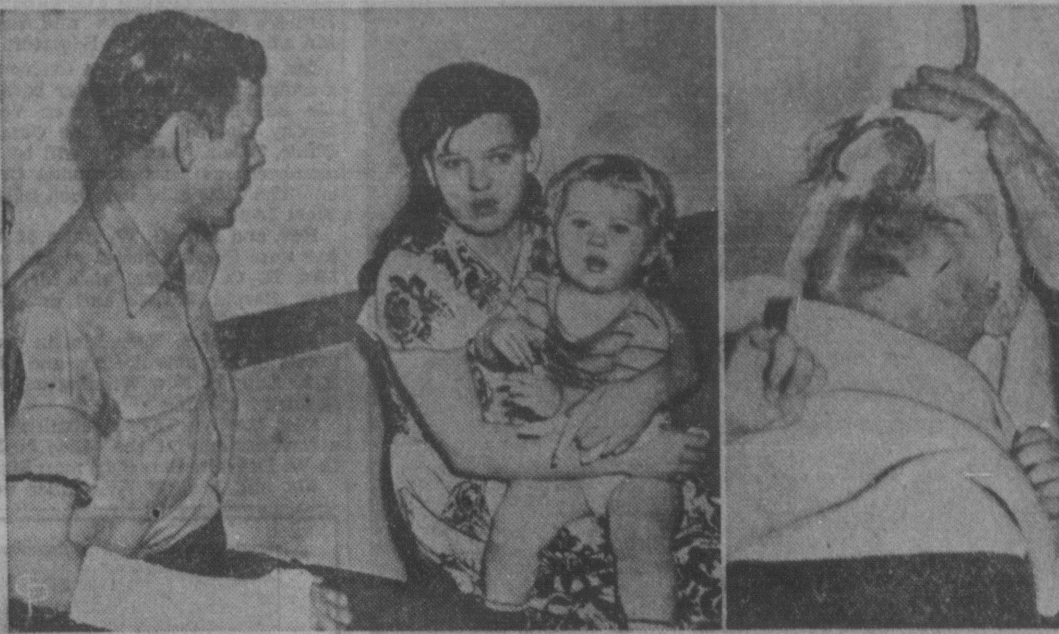

One change being made in the ever-changing face of Manhattan that will bring few tears from sentimentalists is the gradual destruction of the lower East Side slums. They are being replaced by gigantic modern housing projects for lower and middle income people, giving these classes the benefits of skyscraper residential life.

No, "Little Old New York" just doesn't exist any more. And this year the city planning commission, created a decade ago to give some direction to the city's growth, has just proposed that the city spend $317,000,000 next year to modernize itself still more.

This is only one item in "Little Old New York's" billion-dollar budget. In 1890 Benjamin Harrison spent only $318,041,000 to run the entire United States.

The Antarctic winter this year has become so bleak that even the penguins have deserted the inhospitable ice-bound shores of Heard Island, more than 2,000 miles southwest of Perth, Australia.

WHILE HER BABY, 7-month-old Robert, lies dying of a fractured skull and severe bruises all over his body, Mrs. Gergette Redman, 21, explains to Los Angeles police that she beat the infant when "I just lost my temper when he cried." The mother of two other children, who has been charged with assault with intent to kill, said that she has an interlocutory divorce decree from her husband and has been living with Donald Redman, 23, in Los Angeles.

These New-Fangled Buses Fool Old Trolley Driver

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. — For 28 years, Andrew Ondash was a trolley operator who knew every inch of rail along the line. He knew, too, that everywhere the tracks went, the trolley was sure to go. Then his company put buses on the line he served those many years.

The new mechanism was unfamiliar. But Andrew took a firm grip on the wheel and turned. The bus left the highway, hurdled a ditch and ploughed 10 feet into underbrush.

Andrew's bosses said it was all right. They felt everyone must learn, some time.

Control Of Pollution Has Slow Start Without Funds

BY FRED J. ZUSY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—Control of pollution of the nation's streams, authorized by congress last July, is off to a slow start because the lawmakers didn't vote any money.

The new law authorized a $139,000,000 federal program over a five year period, 80 per cent of this for two percent loans to states and cities for construction of sewage works. But none of the money has been appropriated so far.

As a consequence, the public health service and the federal works agency, charged with carrying out the law, have been able to take only a few steps toward their goal.

Cities and states are interested in the program.

The FWA policy is not to accept any applications for loans until congress provides the money for federal participation.

The public health service, meanwhile, with some general public health funds, is laying the groundwork for control operations if and when congress hands out the money.

The country has been divided into 14 major river basin areas. Skeleton field offices are being established in each region. The first, in Kansas City—for the Missouri basin area—was set up in August.

Carl Schwob, chief of the division of water pollution control for the health service, has been in charge of the program so far.

He plans a series of give conferences in December and January in various parts of the country with representatives of state pollution agencies and interstate compact groups such as the nine-state Ohio river basin organization.

Federal and state officials will talk over pollution problems and tentative programs at these meetings.

The health service has "borrowed" about 50 persons from some of its other programs to go ahead with pollution work.

Some of these are in Cincinnati, where a federal laboratory is being enlarged. The law provides $800,000 a year for five years for additional facilities there. Some rented space has been added, pending construction of further research quarters.

The works agency and health service, in working out the national program, will cooperate with allied activities of the army engineers, reclamation bureau, fish and wildlife service, agriculture department and geological survey.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), one of the authors of the law, estimated the cost of clearing up serious pollution situations through the country would run at $3,000,000,000 over a 10-year period. Construction costs, however, have gone up since this estimate.

The law sets up an 11-man water pollution control advisory board in the health service, five named by the heads of agencies involved and six by the President.

The agency representatives have been named, including Mark D. Hollis, executive officer of the health service, designated as chairman. But the presidential appointments have not been made.

Under the law, pollution of interstate waters can be declared a public nuisance, subject to court action.

The financial air consists of loans up to $250,000 for construction of any individual project and grants—not subject to repayment—of up to $220,000 for planning work. An additional amount would be available to state agencies for research grants.

Ellsworth "Sonny" Wisecarver, 19-year-old "Romeo" who charmed other men's wives at an early age but couldn't hold his own, appears behind bars in the Los Angeles County jail. He turned himself in to settle an old score with California juvenile authorities because he promised his estranged wife, Betty Zoe, that he "would make something of himself."

Inside Story of DYNAFLOW DRIVE

New Pump, driven by the engine, shoots out oil with increased force, because of special spiraled chambers

New Turbine, attached to drive shaft, transmits driving force to rear wheels

New Supercharging Assembly, not found in any other car, controls force and direction of oil between pump and turbine, builds up "torque" as required, so that no gears ever need to shift through the whole range of driving

THERE'S one thing about Buick engineers. They go whole hog on any job they tackle.

So they figured that there was only one way to go at the idea of using oil for transmitting power—and that was to go the limit.

That meant making oil do all the work that shifting gears used to do—and do it better.

It meant giving you a pickup that's really a pickup, when you step on the gas.

It meant developing a smooth flow of power through every stage of driving, without lag or bobble.

It meant perfecting a unit that gives good braking on downgrades—and a car that stays put when you park.

How well they did their job is summed up in one fact:

As soon as motorwise newspapermen got their hands on a Dynaflo Drive,* they called it "the biggest advance since the self-starter."

What goes on inside the tightly sealed drum of oil which contains this marvel is shown in the picture above.

But what goes on out on the road is far more important.

You have a command of the car that's too wonderful for words.

Fact is, you don't know what's going on in the automotive world till you've sampled this Dynaflo Drive. Why not see us now? Or better yet, take the first step toward having one of your own. We'll be glad to book your order, with or without a car to trade.

You feel a "sweetness" about the whole ride that some folks think is even more thrilling than freedom from shifting.

You can start, stop, start again. You can cruise. You can sprint. You just feed gas and steer, through the whole gamut of driving experience—and never lift hand from wheel except for parking or backing.

*You get Dynaflo Drive, at extra cost, on Roadmasters only.

McBride Will Stick In All-America

BY JAMES A. BURCHARD
NEA Correspondent

CLEVELAND — Adm. Dan Topping needn't worry too much about his football white elephant, the New York Yankees.

He's heartily backed by Mickey McBride of Cleveland in his bankroll battle to the death with the National league—and McBride is a lad who sticks to the business at hand.

"I'll never walk out on the All-

America conference as long as it's in operation," said McBride. "If it folds, that's something else again. I agree with Topping, a lot of owners are going to be badly hurt in both leagues. But we can take it if they can. Like Topping, I didn't think Tim Mara of the Giants is a miracle man despite his bluster. And Alexis Thompson of the Eagles and George Halas of the Bears couldn't make money this season with the mint behind them."

McBride rarely sounds off without a few million to back his words. He came up a little tougher path than Topping—newspaper circulation in Chicago and Cleveland to taxis and real estate in this city. Today he owns a large chunk of Cleveland, plus the Browns. He expects to lose money on football.

McBride wasn't particularly interested in the 35-7 conquest of the Yankees. That was old stuff. He did get excited, however, when put on the spot for information concerning the A-A future, coach Paul Brown and cash.

"Two years ago my player payroll was about $150,000. Today, thanks to the fight with the NFL, it's $297,000. Our total net is $1,100,000. If we don't make that much, we don't break even. Our only hope is peace. Despite Thompson's talk that he had the winners lined up for a peace talk, I've never heard from him personally. I think we could drop Chicago and move that franchise to Dallas. They can seat 70,000 down there."

McBride scoffed at reports that Coach Brown was ready to take a college football job, probably on the coast.

"He hasn't said anything to me about it, and his contract has two years to run. Personally I'm more interested in Thompson, owner of the Philly Eagles. He wanted to come in our league after the '47 play-off. He made another overture this year. Alexis has the right idea—a common draft and a play-off between the NFL and A-A winners. I can't understand why he doesn't stick to one viewpoint."

"Just say I'm bored with pro football fights, and haven't decided no the future," said Coach Brown.

"Brown can do what he wants," said Mickey McBride.

"He has two more years on his contract."

"He's getting $25,000 plus 15 per cent of the profits."

"He's the best coach in the country and deserves every nickel."

Howell Predicts Gilman Will Take New Coaching Job

BY FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, Oct. 29—This and that from here and there!

Just a week ago we told you that Paul E. Brown will not return next year as coach of the Cleveland Browns.

This week's special is: "Sig Gilman, former Miami coach and now assistant to Earl Blaik at Army, is almost a cinch to be back next season as head coach of one of the mid-American conference universities."

The school is not Miami, and we can't name the institution just now because the coach who is in hasn't been notified he'll be out.

Down around Hamilton the controversy over the Big Blue being dumped from first to third place in the High School ratings is still raging. This column is the target of most of the protests, with letters and telegrams coming in regularly.

Among the most interesting today was a letter from Jack Ighart of Hamilton with the intriguing offer: "Why don't you come here and see how real football is played? I'll do my best to get you a ticket to the Hamilton game that you would like to see."

Bobby Houser, signing himself as a "Hamilton Big Blue booster," was a bit brief, but to the point. His telegram merely said "Boo!" In capital letters.

Mr. Houser, however, did not send his wire collect, as did some of the others.

"Lay off, will you fellows? We just want those votes. You don't jump on the election board, do you, when your favorite isn't elected?"

After writing sports for a quarter century, I thought our family was well-grounded in football and such. But the awakening was rude last week as we came home from the thrilling 34-32 Ohio State victory over Wisconsin.

Mrs. Howell, after reading Mrs. Harry Stuldreher's treatise on the trials and tribulations of a coach's wife, was sympathetic toward the cause of the Wisconsin.

She listened to the game on the radio, and as we walked in the front door after writing our piece for the

BOWL PICTURES TO CLEAR UP SATURDAY

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 — College football swing: into the backstretch this week with games that should go along way toward identifying the major bowl principals.

California's potent Bears look like a cinch for the Rose Bowl if they can squeeze by Southern Cal Saturday at Los Angeles. The Pasadena guest may be decided at Evanston where Northwestern engages Ohio State.

Down in Dixie, unblemished North Carolina and Georgia Tech, sticking close to their telephones for Sugar, Orange or cotton bowl feelers, run into large humps in their schedules.

The N. C. Tar Heels play Tennessee at Knoxville and Vols' Coach Bob Neyland, a renowned pessimist, already has predicted an upset victory for his boys.

Tech's frisky Yellowjackets meet an undefeated Duke team that has been getting progressively better after two opening season ties.

The southwest feature is Southern Methodist against Texas at Austin. The victor in this one could well land in the Cotton bowl although both must reckon with Baylor, which has only a tie on its record. The job for the bowl promoters was further simplified last Saturday when two of the 11 unblemished teams were stricken from the list.

Army's powerful machine rolled over Cornell, 27-6, handling the Big Red its first smudge.

Penn State, riding a victory string that covered the 1947 season, was tied by Michigan State, 14-14.

The nine left without defeat or tie in major ranks are: Michigan, Notre Dame, North Carolina, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Army, Pennsylvania, California and Nevada.

Of these, Michigan, Notre Dame and Army aren't bowl candidates and Pennsylvania, as an Ivy leaguer, is not overly receptive to bids.

Michigan, victor over Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl last year, can't return because of a conference rule against repeat performances. Notre Dame and Army don't go in for the post-season extravaganzas.

The Wolverines, elevated to the No. 1 spot last week in the Associated Press poll, justified their selection by overwhelming Minnesota Saturday, 27-14. They are virtually "in" as Big Nine champions.

Northwestern, beaten only by Michigan, then takes the lead in the Rose Bowl picture on the basis of its 19-16 triumph over Minnesota. But Ohio State also has lost only one game—to Iowa.

California continued its display of offensive power in smashing Washington, 21-0. If they can get by Southern Cal, the Bears wind up with the weaker U.C.L.A. Washington State and Stanford.

Oregon, beaten only by Michigan, still is in the running for the Pacific Coast conference crown and the bowl spot. But the Webfoots' hopes depend on California stubbing a toe.

All the other unbeaten-united giants came through last week's tests under wraps except Pennsylvania. The Penn forces were handed a tremendous scare by winless Navy before they squeaked through, 20-14.

Notre Dame bulled right over Iowa, 27-12. North Carolina showed its old time power which had been missing the week before in lashing Louisiana State, 34-7. Georgia Tech walloped Florida, 42-7 and Nevada smashed Tulsa, 65-15.

BEARDEN VOTED ROOKIE OF YEAR IN AMERICAN LOOP

Wins Over 2 Teammates, Larry Dohy and Old Satchell Paige

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Gene Bearden, the stylish southpaw pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, joined Shortstop Al Dark of the Boston Braves as the major leagues' No. 1 rookies of 1948.

Bearden yesterday was given the American league distinction in a nationwide poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The 28-year-old native of Lexa, Ark., who now makes his home in Los Angeles, had much stiffer competition than Dark, who was named on 169 of the 220 ballots. The knuckleball artist received 90 votes to nose out Billy Goodman, Boston Red Sox first baseman, by two votes.

Nine other players received support. Lou Brissie, southpaw pitcher of the Philadelphia Athletics, ranked third with 15 votes. Satchell Paige, Cleveland's legendary Negro pitcher, was fourth with 12.

No other player received more than four votes. Bob Porterfield, New York Yankees' pitcher, got four; Mel Parnell, Red Sox left-hander, three; George Vico, Detroit first baseman; Larry Dohy, Cleveland outfielder, and Johnny Lipon, Tiger shortstop, two each; and First Baseman Hank Aft and Pitcher Ned Garver, both of the St. Louis Browns, one.

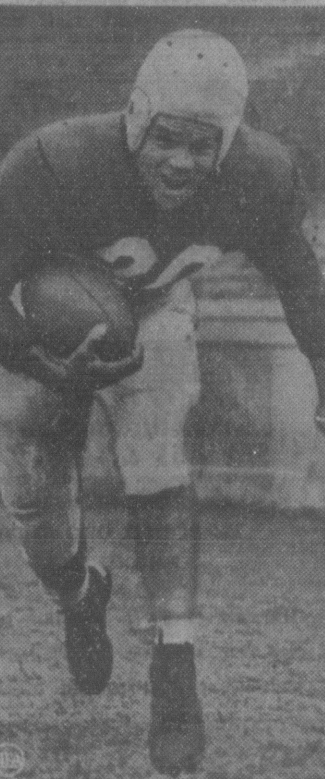

Dohy was not listed among the eligibles for rookie honors since he played in a sufficient number of games to qualify in 1947. That, undoubtedly, was the reason for his low total. All ballots were in at least a week before the end of the regular campaign, so the World Series could have had no influence on Bearden's vote.

The handsome, curly-haired ex-sailor gained the award because of his consistently fine pitching all season. He finished with a record of 20 victories and only seven defeats.

Bearden wound up the season in a blaze of glory, winning his last seven starts including the epic playoff game with Boston for the American league pennant. He also hurled a shutout victory over the Braves in the World Series and saved the last game with a great bit of relief pitching.

Bearden, who came to the Indians in the winter of 1946 in a trade with the Yankees, spent three and a half years in the navy. His ship, the Helena, was torpedoed and he narrowly escaped death when an

EAST LIVERPOOL THROWS SCARE TO MARTINS FERRY

Leads State's Eighth Best Team Until Fourth 3,500 On Hand

Sharpening their offensive and defensive weapons for Salem next week, the East Liverpool Pottery threw a terrific scare into Martins Ferry, rated No. 8 in Ohio, only to lose in the final quarter 13-7 at Petterson field Thursday night.

About 3,500 thrilled fans watched the closely fought battle, which saw the Pottery score early in the third quarter and take the lead 7-0 on a touchdown pass from Quarterback Harold Stanley to Halfback Pete McCullough, a 14-yard play. The score was set up when Chink Sullivan fell on a Ferry fumble on the Ferry 30.

Near the end of the third frame, Ferry came back to make it 7-6. After Frank Bruney got six to the Potter 49, Frank Branson, a substitute halfback at 120 pounds, scampered to the sidelines and went the distance, getting away after being hemmed in on the Potter 15. A bad pass from center foiled the tying point.

Early in the fourth frame Bruney intercepted Stanley's pass on the East Liverpool 45 and returned it to the 36 to set up the winning tally. After gaining to the Potter 23, penalties set Ferry back to the 33 from where Bruney hurled a pass to Halfback Dick Duncan on the 18. He scampered across from there. Bobby Joseph kicked the extra to make it 13-7.

East Liverpool never threatened again.

The statistics show the Pottery with eight first downs to six for Ferry. East Liverpool netted 92 yards from rushing, Ferry 149. Passing went 83 to 22 in Ferry's favor.

East Liverpool has won a single game in seven contests, Martins Ferry is undefeated in Ohio competition.

All Scoring Done In Last Six Minutes As Youngstown Wins 1st

BY DON E. BEATTIE

The Halloween season is here and, brother, Youngstown Rayen and Salem football players were right in the spirit Thursday!

A wild, weird football game was played last night at Reilly stadium in a perfect ghostly fog as Youngstown eked out a victory — its first in seven games this year — 14-13 over Salem High's Quakers. And all the scoring — four touchdowns and three extra points — was done in the final six minutes of play.

The eerie gridiron spectacle — which looked like something a weekly magazine novelist might have dreamed up on a bad night — reversed the usual procedure all the way around. Rayen won 14-13 but everything else in the crazy quilt tilt was Salem's, by a mile!

The 3,721 paying spectators sat through a foggy 42 minutes of scoreless play, during which Salem dominated everything, only to see things pop like an atomic bomb in the furious final six minutes.

Salem racked up the first touchdown with six minutes left to go and led 6-0 after the extra point kick failed.

Rayen's Bill Burney set the crowd on its ear with a dazzling 90-yard runback of the ensuing kickoff and the extra made it 7-6. Rayen quickly intercepted a Salem pass and went 33 yards to score and another extra made it 14-6, Rayen.

Then the desperate Quakers rushed over and made the extra to make it 14-13 with a minute left. Then, just as suddenly, it was all over.

While you're catching your breath trying to assimilate that flurry of action, look at the statistics.

Salem out first-downed Rayen 17-7. They out-gained the fee in net total 394 to 124. They outrushed them 210 to 140 and outpassed them 215 to nothing.

Which all makes one wonder why statistics are ever kept!

Besides that edge, Salem made what could be considered serious touchdown bids four times in the first three quarters, only to fall each time. Rayen threatened only once, and Salem held them for a minus four yards on a sterling defensive stand in the first quarter.

Unquestionably the straw that broke Salem's back was Burney's astounding return of Walt Ehrhart's pretty 50 yard kickoff. He did it from his own 10 to paydirt just after Salem had tallied to take the lead 6-0 a 99-yard amble.

Burney completed the longest run of the year here by scooting east to the sidelines, cutting back to the center of the field and outracing fleet-footed Ray Yeager over the goal stripe.

Yeager gained five yards on the dash from the 50 on over, but fall-

Rayen 13. Nocera caught it like he was related to the oval and went on over the 13 yards for the score.

Ehrhart's kick for the point, then not so important, was blocked by Tackle Julius Jackson, the man who should be awarded the honors for winning tilt for that play alone. He played a terrific game for Rayen, incidentally.

Then came the stupefying 90-yard kickoff return by Bill Burney, a Negro star, who, if he isn't out for track, should be enlisted right now. Burney out-distanced Ray Yeager, Salem's fastest, in a 50-yard foot duel.

Orechoneg's placement job—beautiful as it was—looked mighty sad to Salemites and it was 7-6 with everyone out of breath.

Salem, received the kickoff and started out with a pass by Miner from the Quaker 36. 'Twas the wrong time, for Don Heller, a guard nebbish in and took the ball to return it to the Salem 33.

Rayen struck fast and furiously again. Fullback Frank Ewashko scooted around right end for 11 yards to the Salem 22. With first down on the 22, Burney did it again, this time moving the 22 markers after zooming through left tackle. Orechoneg trotted off his spot on the bench and booted the point and it looked hopeless, 14-6, with less than three minutes left.

But Salem was still trying. Taking the kickoff back to the Quaker 35, Ehrhart scooted for seven and then Miner cut loose a long pass intended for Joe Alessi on the eight yard line.

Alessi went up—but so did Halfback Tony Crish of Rayen—and the officials called interference on Crish, giving Salem the ball on the Rayen eight with time awastin'.

After one play, Bozich went around right end and fought like a demon to step into the end zone—a pretty run all the way. Ehrhart's boot this time was like a coach's dream, but Salem was still on the short end 14-13.

The way the Quakers were rolling it would probably have taken just about a minute or two more to get out in front. But the needed time wasn't to be had and the game ended as Rayen struggled backwords on its own 20.

Salem lost, but the team wasn't what could be called off form except when it got near the Rayen goal. The blocking was good until the plays were vital and the Quaker offense rolled up its largest total of the season. The defense, too, was one of the best Salem has given out with this season, except for the kickoff runback and the second score flurry. Breaks, it seems, were at a premium for Quakertown last night.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSING

It all goes to show you — statistics don't mean a thing! Salem romped Thursday evening at Reilly stadium, but didn't win... And a large, large piece of credit for Salem's loss might well be placed at the feet of two Rayenites, Halfback Bill Burney and Tackle Julius Jackson... These two guys wrapped a ball game up between them, Burney on the two payoff runs (of course, Warren Orechoneg's packkicking was rather important, too) and Jackson on a magnificent brand of defensive ball as a line backer... Jackson weighs in at 210 pounds and if any football team could put together seven linemen like him, the famed Irish of Notre Dame would have trouble winning out over it... He was a demon on line backing, hitting like a champ and uncanny at diagnosing plays... The loss was a tough one for Coach Barrett... He wanted his first Salem try against Youngstown school... Undoubtedly, however, he and his team were not "up" sky-high for the tilt, for it figured as an easy one and had things gone as they usually do in a football game, Salem would have won handsly.

The halftime show was a dilly, too... The Rayen band gave a neat, interesting performance and Salem's marchers came through with the traditional Halloween show under the "black lights"... The Salem music, let us note here, was certainly on the unusual side and well done... To the band's credit, too, was the broader use of the fluorescent materials on the uniforms, thus giving a more activated picture under the special light... Had the fog been somewhere else last night the band show would have come out more clearly... The misty hangover mad things rough for the "black lights"... Jerry Smith, Salem's midjet guard, deserves half of Ed Bozich's six points on that second end run for a score... Jerry turned in a key block as Ed rounded the right side of the line, a timely and neat trick... The size of the crowd was a surprise to a lot of people... Even Cope was happy.

GIVE IT A THOUGHT DEPT.

An irate mother verbally attack this corner the other day because "Junior" wasn't getting "a break" in the sports columns of this newspaper. The attack, like many others received here, went off our jack like the water off the ducks, out the mother involved dropped a remark that set us to thinking. In the course of the verbal onslaught, she said, "and after all my boy has done for the High school!"

It's things of that sort that explain the attitude of some of the less diligent athletes we see around High schools and colleges these days. There is a bit too much of that parental advice to children that "you are doing the school a big favor by playing football (or basketball or track or marbles or liddlwwinks)." When any kid enters a sport in scholastic or collegiate ranks with that thought planted in his mind by a parent—or someone else—he would be far better off to spend his time watching the latest movie.

The less of it passed around by parents, the better.

ODDS AND ENDS
When Walter Ehrhart ran wild in the Wellsville game he had competition... Or says Al Hartman, state parolman and also a football official who worked that game... It's Hartman's claim that he ran the length with Walter every time and—believe it or not—got across the goal line before "The Bull" and, the movies prove it, too!

Whatever happened to those interesting spectacles the Boost club used to line up from week to week... We've had several inquiries... Oddly enough the sale of basketball season tickets hasn't been

Hunting and Fishing Notes

Printed folders containing abbreviated hunting and trapping regulations for the 1948 season may be secured from county game protectors and hunting license agents throughout the state, according to Lester C. Bailey, law enforcement chief of the Ohio Division of Conservation.

A brief review of the 1948 regulations reveals that the season on pheasants will open Nov. 15 and remain open through Nov. 25, with a daily bag limit of two cock birds and possession limit of two. For rabbit the season opens Nov. 15 and runs through Dec. 18. Four rabbits may be taken in one day; the possession limit is also four.

Daily hunting hours for both rabbit and pheasant will be the same as last year, 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., including the opening day. Regulations for grouse shooting will be the same as for pheasants. Trapping regulations will be the same as last year.

There will be no open season on Hungarian partridge and skunk for the entire state in 1948.

The 1948 hunting season represents three more pheasant shooting days and five more rabbit shooting days than last year.

Asked to Report Duck Bands
Duck and goose hunters are requested by the Division of Conservation to look for bands on the legs of ducks and geese they kill and report the number of the band to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service at Washington, D. C. Ducks and geese are being banded at Ohio waterfowl refuges.

A report will be sent to the hunter showing where the duck or goose was banded and the date. Hunters in reporting bands should state the date and location where killed.

In addition to U. S. Wildlife Service bands, hunters should look for Refuge, Kinship, Ontario. The bands help to trace the flight habits and migratory movements of waterfowl.

Grouse Hunting to Be Good
According to the Ohio Division of Conservation, grouse hunting will be good this year. Grouse hunting will be good this year. Grouse hunting will be good this year.

FORRESTAL MAY SEEK FIRM HAND OVER MILITARY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON—Secretary of Defense Forrestal may suggest congress give his office firmer control over the three armed services in the unified but sometimes quarrelsome military establishments.
This possibility stood out today in the light of two public statements by members of Forrestal's official family, Secretary of the Army Royal and Army Chief of Staff Omar Bradley. Both expressed their views in Navy day speeches.

Royal said at Baltimore, "We have found out where unification is not working," and where changes are needed. Then he asserted: "There is need of unequivocal and authoritative direction and command at the top, and this must be given by statute."

Bradley was more blunt. He said at Des Moines last night: "If the armed services are to retain the trust and confidence of the American people then they must put an end to their dog-eat-dog contests for a part of the taxpayer's dollar."

"The United States cannot stake its national defense requirements on a popularity contest where glitter, glamor and shrewd public appeal become more important than military judgment. You cannot risk your security to a bout for public favor and congressional indulgence."

While Bradley did not single out any individual service, the arguments over missions and sharing in material have been going on since early World War II days, chiefly between the Navy and Air Forces. The Army has maintained a neutral, often a peace-making role.
There was no immediate formal comment from Forrestal's office on the Royal or Bradley expressions.

Opportunities to buy to advantage are found daily in The News classified advertising columns.

Kent State To Have Room For Expansion

KENT, Oct. 29—Kent State university has been assured room for future expansion with purchase of 105 acres of land adjacent to the present campus, President George A. Bowman announced today.
Total cost of the three properties was $75,000, according to Dr. Bowman.

Immediate need for some of the new land was emphasized by President Bowman, Kent, with some 6,668 students this fall, ranks second only to Ohio State in enrollment among the state universities.

Three Mine Unions O. K. Dewey Support

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 29—Flat endorsement of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for the Presidency was announced today by three district presidents of the United Mine Workers in West Virginia.
They called upon the 110,000 UMW members in the state to vote for Gov. Dewey as "the lesser of two evils."

The joint statement was released here by William Blizard, president of UMW District 17. It said that "it is inconceivable that any member of the United Mine Workers of America should cast his ballot for Harry S. Truman at the election Nov. 2."

Blizard released the statement on behalf of George J. Titler of Beckley, president of District 31, and himself.

They quoted from a statement made by UMW Chief John L. Lewis at the recent national convention of the union at Cincinnati, which referred to President Truman as "a man totally unfit for the position."

Blizard, Titler and Urbanik added that "while Thomas E. Dewey is not altogether satisfactory to the United Mine Workers' organization, he is the lesser of two evils."

PIEDMONT, Mo. — The trouble with Charles Hartline was that he didn't know how to stop his horse. It ran over an automobile. The horse was not hurt. Hartline went to the hospital with a minor shoulder injury. The car, driven by City Alderman Glenn Blackwell, was considerably damaged. The runaway horse collided with the car at an intersection. Flying hooves smashed the glass, dented the side and caved in the roof of the 1948 model.
